Worship Directory

Greetings!

For new administrators and communications people and new potential advertisers, this is information on how the Northeaster's Northeast Area Worship Directory works, and a little bit about how the Northeaster works, as answers to frequently asked questions.

Q: What is the Northeaster, what is your circulation and who reads it?

A: The Northeaster circulates twice a month, hand-carried, to every single-family and small multi-family home in the coverage area: Northeast Minneapolis, St. Anthony, Columbia Heights and Hilltop. Apartments are covered with bulk drops in lobbies, starting with 25 percent coverage and adjusted for demand. Many businesses are also pickup points. Total printed, 32,500. Circulation is audited, the full audit as well as reader demographics can be found on www.MyNortheaster.com under "advertising." Select individual pages or download the "Full Media Kit." We're pleased to have 72% of our potential readers reading the paper, and they are distributed over all adult age categories.

Q: Are church ads free or is there a charge?

A: There is a charge for ads and the Worship Directory, but there is also a free service. The Northeaster is known for our robust section of public service announcements – "The Northeast Experience," as well as our enterprising news and event reporting. You are welcome – whether or not your church advertises – to send us announcements of special events to which the general public is welcome and expected to attend. These are free, are subject to editing and not guaranteed (occasionally we will run out of space or there might be some human error and something wouldn't get in).

To advertise your regular worship times, we offer the Northeast Area Worship Directory, which appears 24 times per year. It's paid advertising, and opens you up to huge discounts on other advertising.

Q: How does the Worship Directory work?

A: Ad sizes are $400 for the one-inch ad, $600 for 1.5-inches or $800 for two inches for the year (see samples on the last page of this piece). That is approximately half off the "open" rate that commercial advertisers pay, and is lower than even the rate that we have for commercial advertisers who advertise in 24 editions. The space is small and "institutional" – we suggest listing very basic information; you will see in the current directory there is some very small type to accommodate slogans. About 6 or 7 lines per inch is most readable. We bill up front. If you need to make payments over time, this is permissible.

Q: What about logos or color?

A: To keep costs down, the directory is in black-and-white. We use the handicapped-accessible symbol where appropriate, we use Facebook logos, and can accommodate church logos that hold up well at that size. Beyond, that, we keep a clean look, with one consistent type face for the names of the churches, and one font family for the descriptions. Display ads outside of the Directory can be in color (25% more than black and white ad cost).

Q: Can we change our Worship Directory ad every issue, or seasonally?

A: Again, to keep costs down, we invite changes ONLY when the information in the ad would become incorrect: If worship times or pastor's name changes, or a phone number or website change, we are happy to make the change. We have changed the dates for free community dinners when they are supplied in advance. Notify us when your times change for the summer or fall. Best way to make sure changes are made is to email Contact@MyNortheaster.com with a copy to Margo Ashmore's personal email at mfashmore@aol.com.

Q: What about Christmas? Can the Worship Directory ads change then?

A: YES! Starting with the edition before Thanksgiving, we invite all churches (by email and/or calls, so make sure we have your correct contact info) to list any special service times and events for Thanksgiving, Christmas, and New Year. We also keep an eye on Easter and will make changes then. At those times we EXPAND the entire directory at no extra charge to accommodate the extra information. Again, your info should go to Contact@MyNortheaster.com with a copy to Margo Ashmore's personal email at mfashmore@aol.com.

Q: What if we want to advertise outside of the Worship Directory?

A: That's the best news of all. When you are in the Worship Directory, your rate for display advertising elsewhere in the paper is at 40% off the open commercial rate. For example, an ad the size shown at the bottom of the sample on this page would be $138 compared to the commercial rate $230. (Or color price $173 vs. $288)

If you opt not to advertise this year in the Worship Directory, but do want to advertise for special events, your deal rate would be in the non-profits category, 20% off open rate when you do two or more ads in the year. (See the 12x rate in the media kit, which is available online at www.MyNortheaster.com.)
